As Associate Director or Head of Analytical Operations you will lead and direct the team managing external partners, global projects, networks, and/or platforms. Prioritize customer needs and ensure alignment of own and team activities with the overall drug development process.

Be directly accountable for maximizing resource utilization within your team or for a specific activity. Lead budget and resource forecasting, grant preparation, and ensure cost awareness in all assigned projects and/or networks.

Develop strategic priorities and objectives in alignment with Technical Research & Development (TRD) strategy and take right measurements for effective operationalization and oversight.

About the Role

KEY ACCOUNTABILITIES:

- Develop and drive long term line unit strategies to enhance strategic partnering scalability, speed and quality. Lead and manage project/network activities, leveraging scientific, technical, good manufacturing practice (GMP), and quality expertise to ensure compliant and efficient externalization of analytical work packages across biologics (Bx) Analytical Development (Bx AD).
- Ensure effective management of all project-related activities with contractors, aligning their timelines with project milestones. Support high quality of international registration documents via close collaboration and alignment with the Analytical Project sub-team.
- Consistently and actively assess and expand potential externalization opportunities for new business areas in alignment with Bx AD line units.
- Assess, consolidate, and negotiate internal and external resource needs for projects, networks and/or platforms: ensure budget and resource adherence for assigned sub-teams.
- Coordinate the transfer of know-how or procedures to other departments or external contractors. Demonstrate experience in working with interdisciplinary and cross-cultural teams as recognized expert in the international scientific community with excellent leadership skills
- Proactively identify and resolve conflict situations with empathy; drive cultural evolution and change management

- Create a culture of excellence in knowledge exchange. Develop, mentor and coach fellows and other associates helping them grow their potential

Key performance indicators (KPI)

- Impact on the team and the organization (enabling others for success)
- Successful execution of assigned tasks within given timelines at expected quality; right first time & right in time
- Adherence to costs, quality, quantity and timelines for assigned tasks
